IX Fintech Group Limited and its subsidiary IX Asia Indexes Company Limited Win Two Awards from ETNET Fintech Award 2021

Hong Kong, China – IX Fintech Group Limited (ixFintech Group) is honored to announce that the company and its subsidiary IX Asia Indexes Company Limited (IX Asia Indexes) have won two awards from ETNET Fintech Award 2021. ixFintech Group won an award for outstanding blockchain digital wallet trading solution under the Blockchain Solution category while its subsidiary IX Asia Indexes won an award for outstanding crypto index platform under the Wealth Investment and Management category.

The ETNET Fintech Awards have been held for five consecutive years with the aim to commend the good use of Fintech practices and recognise outstanding Hong Kong-based companies. They are awarded in acknowledgement of the companies' excellent business performance, sustainable growth as well as their commitment to maintaining outstanding practices in all aspects of Fintech. ixFintech Group and IX Asia Indexes are honoured to have received the ETNET Fintech Awards once again and shall continue to uphold outstanding practices in the industry while working towards future milestones.

ixFintech Group is also delighted to announce the successful integration of privacy identity authentication and post quantum computing security into ixWallet 2.0 to safeguard users' identity against cybersecurity risk. The ixWallet 2.0 marks a momentous milestone in the development journey to provide enhanced protection for the customers' valuable digital assets. In addition to serving users who want anonymity while satisfying regulators' requirements on KYC and security, ixWallet 2.0 allows users to choose whether they want to conduct full KYC for regulated activities through its settings.

“We are delighted that our hard work in the development of digital assets in the past has been recognized by the market. Going forward we hope to work more closely with the local government and regulators to shape a safe and compliant ecosystem for our finance industry and make the development of digital assets sustainable. We believe that there are many meaningful applications yet to be explored using the blockchain technology in finance. In particular, we aim to re-mobilize resources and capital into projects that are meaningful to the world. Thank you ETNET Fintech Award and the judges for their time and effort in this event.” said Irene Wong, Founder and CEO of ixFintech Group.

IX Asia Indexes is a wholly owned subsidiary of the ixFintech Group. With an aim to become one of the leading index compilers in Asia, its services in the areas of both real and digital assets cover index consultancy, index design, index calculation and dissemination, and index education. IX Asia Indexes has set itself a mission to bring innovation to indexing as well as transparency and standardization to the digital asset and tokenisation world through the establishment of investment-grade and rules-based benchmarks. Our goal is to allow investors to access reliable and transparent benchmarks backed by institutional-quality pricing data.

In the coming future, IX Asia Indexes will broaden its index series by including other markets in Asia, bringing more innovation and products to the global investors.
