ixFintech Group Limited Announces ixWallet®2.0 Bringing New NFT Features connecting to Top NFT MarketPlace and On Chain intelligence

Hong Kong, China – IX Fintech Group Limited (“ixFintech”) is honoured to announce the successful upgrade of ixWallet®2.0 bringing new features such as Non-fungible Token (NFT) storage and quantitative transaction analytics to further boost user experience.

The new enhancement of ixWallet®2.0 now provides easy access of top NFT collectibles on the blockchain including Bored Ape Yacht Club, CryptoPunks, Mutant Ape Yacht Club and The Sandbox etc. such that users can easily manage their NFT portfolios and check their value. Users can now transfer NFTs, sending collectibles to their friends and view their collection in the wallet. Its browser extension applying Wallet Connect provides easy access to Web3 sites such as OpenSea NFT marketplace with just a couple of clicks. Now users can store their DeFi assets in one place.

ixWallet®2.0 is now as well integrated with built in IntoTheBlock Analytics Platform bringing more intelligence to quickly access information. The analytics on-chain metrics will include retail/institutional transaction demographics, statistics, transaction flow, and more. Users can use these data to understand the market trading sentiment in order to make trading decisions. The analytics will cover the top 50 cryptocurrencies according to the Digital Asset Industry Classification System (“DAICS™”) of IX Asia Indexes to be reviewed half yearly.

“The new ixWallet®2.0 enhancement marks an innovative advancement in our ongoing development journey to provide analytics intelligence for our customers. We are delighted to collaborate with IntoTheBlock on this exciting integration,” said Irene Wong, the founder and CEO of ixFintech.

Same as ixWallet®1.0, it has embedded the IronCAP™ post-quantum cryptography (PQC) algorithm approved by NIST. Also with a demonstration of the KYC on account opening and privacy identity authentication to support a safer and compliant digital asset managed ecosystem. Asset backed tea coin token Proof of Concept that is tokenised by ixFintech team with 17 smart contracts for token management is also made available on the ixWallet®2.0.
