
ixFintech Limited Enters into a Memorandum of Understanding with 01 Communique Laboratory Inc.

HONG KONG – 19 November, 2019. ixFintech today announced that it has entered into a memorandum of understanding (MOU) with 01 Communique Laboratory Inc. (01), a TMX listed company, to work towards adopting 01's innovative post quantum cyber security product, IronCAP in its platforms. Longer term, to explore possible areas of cooperation for development of future technology solutions for its new business initiatives.

“As technology continues to advance especially in the fintech arena, so does the pace of new cybersecurity risks. 01 Communique provides a unique product to protect today's businesses with futureproof capability against post-quantum cyberattacks. Adoption of IronCAP will no doubt strengthen our system infrastructure, safeguard our operation, data and processes. We are excited about the potential this partnership brings as we begin to explore new technology solutions for our new business initiatives,” said Irene Wong, CEO of ixFintech.

“We look forward to penetrating the Asian market with our new partner, ixFintech. Working together with ixFintech, we believe our quantum-safe IronCAP product will be widely adopted not only by ixFintech but also other companies throughout Asia. We also look forward to the opportunity of collaborating with ixFintech and developing other technical solutions for their future business initiatives,” said Andrew Cheung, President and CEO of 01 Communique.

The MOU will see 01 Communique and ixFintech working together on cybersecurity offerings and new business development as well as marketing initiatives throughout Asia.

About 01 Communique

01 Communique Laboratory Inc. (TSX-V:ONE) is focused on cybersecurity with its IronCAP patent-pending cryptographic system designed to protect users and enterprises against the ever-evolving illegitimate and malicious means of gaining access to their data today and in the future with the introduction of powerful quantum computers. Based on improved code-based encryption it is designed to be faster and more secure than current standards. IronCAP operates on conventional computer systems so users are protected today while at the same time being secure enough to safeguard against future attacks coming with the introduction of quantum computers. Along with IronCAP the Company's legacy business provides customers with a suite of secure remote access services and products. These legacy products are protected in the U.S.A. by its patents #6,928,479 / #6,938,076 / #8,234,701; in Canada by its patents #2,309,398 / #2,524,039 and in Japan by its patent #4,875,094.
